

Extend the collective impact of your 2020 event or knowledge program

During 2020 the OECD Observatory of Public Sector Information (OPSI), in collaboration with the European Commission and a worldwide network of national and sectoral contributing organisations, will convene networks of practitioners, policy makers, researchers, stakeholders and partners around the world in November for Government After Shock – a worldwide networked event over two days on 17-18 November with over 33 countries actively participating so far.

To create shared value through existing or planned event programs throughout 2020, we are inviting allied conference and knowledge program convenors and hosts to join with us in co-convening the 2020 After Shock DIALOGUES NETWORK.

WHY THE NETWORK IS BEING CONVENED

The co-convening of this 2020 'pop-up network' is a focused effort to capture knowledge and expertise across the global public-purpose ecosystem in a way that is open and collaborative.

It is for knowledge events, research initiatives and data gathering across this year exploring the various aspects of post-shock in the public-purpose arena, not solely government.

The 2020 After Shock DIALOGUES NETWORK provides a way that diverse public-purpose programs can be aligned with the OECD OPSI Government After Shock initiative while remaining autonomous.

It is an important opportunity during this unique time to capture the range of questions, insights, lessons and future directions being explored through allied events and initiatives all over the world.

CAPTURING INSIGHTS FROM YOUR DIALOGUE

During 2020, the OECD OPSI team are leading the curation of a portfolio of collective insights, gathered from allied events as well as the networked Government After Shock event. This includes a prototype space for collecting and sensemaking narratives for different futures.

As part of your 2020 NETWORK participation, you can have content, guidelines and facilitation to lead an insight capture process at your event for a public-sector related session.

Other value includes:

- Recognised linkage with an OECD co-convened global initiative
- Optional involvement in the curation and publishing of insights artefacts before, during and after the event
- A 2020 Insights summary of curated material following the event, which can be co-branded for circulation to your networks.

YOUR EVENT OPTIONS and #2020AfterShock

AT YOUR DIALOGUE EVENT

- Include a dedicated 2020 After Shock session in your event, aligned with the OPSI program. (More information available.)
- Host a segment towards the end of this session to capture insights, facilitated virtually by the 2020 After Shock support facilitators.

AFTER YOUR EVENT

- Host a post-event deliberative session with a leadership group to share knowledge and ideas, again facilitated virtually by the 2020 After Shock team.

CONTACT To discuss what becoming a member of the 2020 After Shock Network might involve for your event program, please contact the OPSI team at opsi@oecd.org.

CO-DESIGN We could also explore your involvement in the 2-day Government After Shock events in November. Join in the worldwide co-design sessions. govaftershock@cofluence.co
